

Thank You, God!

It's November and the young man's heart turns to . . . Thanksgiving! I look forward to time with family—the best part of the holiday. The table will be spread: Turkey and dressing. Mashed potatoes and gravy. Dinner rolls. Cranberry salad. Pumpkin pie with lots of whipped cream. Mmm-mmm-mmm! I can taste it already. Thank You, God!

I'm thankful for family. Sherry. Becky and Craig. Jim, Courtney, and Jordan. Pete. Andy, Kelsie, Winnie, and Nona. Leah. Caleb. Reuben and Gabriel. Priscilla, Lydia, and Tiger. Each one a blessing. For a comfortable home—the nicest house we've ever lived in. And for a house—rented for a while—and a project for the next chapter of my life. Thank You, God!

I'm thankful for this country. For freedom. For the rule of law. For education. For good roads. For peace and prosperity. And for country living. For neighbors. For the harvest. For small town values. For peace and quiet. Thank You, God!

I'm thankful for Liberty Chapel. For cards and food and gifts for pastor appreciation. You are all so gracious. I'm blessed far beyond what I deserve. Thank you, all! For children and adults. For godly Sunday School teachers and worship leaders. For love for children and all God's people. For willing servants and great cooks. Thank You, God!

I'm thankful for the Father. For creation and creativity. For love and purpose. I'm thankful for Jesus. For His life and death and life that gives me life. I'm thankful for the Holy Spirit who gives gifts, fruit, spiritual wisdom, and transformation. Thank You, God!

It's November and God has great things in store for you and me.

See you Sunday,

Pastor Brad
